Suring superintendent suspended indefinitely

Casper placed on paid administrative leave over false imprisonment charges

By WARREN BLUHM

Editor-in-chief

Two days after being charged with six counts of false imprisonment in connection with student searches, Suring School District Superintendent Kelly Casper was placed on indefinite paid administrative leave March 2.

The Suring School Board appointed Michelle Pendl, director of special education and curriculum coordinator, to handle most day-to-day administrative duties. Because Pendl does not have a state license to serve as a school administrator, any tasks that require a licensed person will fall to board president Wayne Sleeter.

Casper is charged with taking six girls, ages 14 to 17, one by one into a small restroom in January and ordering them to strip to their underwear to be searched for vaping devices. In addition to the criminal charges, the girls' parents — who were not notified until after the searches — have hired a civil rights attorney and filed a notice of claim, a precursor to a potential lawsuit.

The board listened to often emotional comments from the community before deliberating for more than an hour in closed session before coming out to announce Casper's suspension effective March 3. She did not attend the meeting, and Sleeter said she had been working from home for more than a week.

Terry Garrigan, a teacher in the district, began by saying he was accompanied by and representing many of the staff who plan to be there for the students to help them persevere.

"We would like to express the hurt that we are feeling by comments that are being made about our school and our community to which we have dedicated so much of our life," Garrigan said. "We are not choosing sides, but with our many years experience, we are here on behalf of our kids and with the devotion we have to not only educating your children, but also coaching them, counseling them and so much more."

Brenda Schrank, like several other parents, prefaced her remarks by thanking the teachers and emphasizing that her problem is with the administration.

"I have come to the point where if my son gets called to the office, he is to text me and let me know he is going to the office, and then his first words there are to be, 'Call my mom,'" Schrank said. "I have instructed him not to say anything to anyone because of fear of everything that's going on."

Leslie Laluzerne said the board's job is to make decisions, follow policy and provide a safe environment for all the children, school staff members and our community.

"At this point, the lack of communication, knowledge of your own board policies ... and failure to protect and serve have left our small community, parents and kids, to go forward with a tarnished ability to trust in the efforts of you moving forward," Laluzerne said.

She asked audience members to stand if they support removing the entire board from office, and about half of the 200-plus people in the audience stood.

The mother of a child who is on the autism spectrum said tearfully that parents of special needs kids struggle with turning them over to babysitters or teachers — "the first day I brought him here I was terrified" — and the Suring staff has become like family to him.

"But this one person is making me question, do I continue to send him?" she said. "He can't come home and tell me if someone mistreats him."

Jamie Barke, of Hobart, called Casper a predator because "she openly admits she has done this before," and she promised to "rally every single parent in the state" to peacefully protest outside the school building unless the board acted.

"If you think that we will stand by and allow people to completely overstep their bounds, then you are wrong. You had your time to do the right thing," Barke said. "You all have allowed a predator in your school system, and now enough is enough."

Tabitha School, of Maple Valley, turned to the teachers and emphasized that the parents' anger is not with them.

"You are their safe zone — every one of you. My kids love you. We would never work against you, we would never fight against you, and as for fighting for those kids, if it was your child, we'd fight for them," School said. "We will fight for every kid that had to go through this, because it's wrong — every single thing that she did was wrong. And it's disgusting that it has to come to this."

School said the parents do not condone drugs and alcohol in the school, but it's the parents' job to discipline their children. She said the girls' parents should have been called before any discipline was imposed.

Most of the crowd stayed in the elementary gym while the board met in closed session, and they applauded the unanimous vote to put Casper on administrative leave.

behalf of the board and promised a more detailed letter would be sent to all parents the next day. He began by thanking the people who came because it showed they still believe their voice matters and wanted to be heard.

"I believe I also speak for the board when I say this is easily the most difficult situation I have ever been involved with as a board member," Sleeter said. "Please know that we have to walk a tight-rope on this issue as board members. As we know, the board and the sheriff's department are actively involved in an investigation. If we jump over that process, we open the district up to all kinds of legal exposure."

If board members appear to be tight-lipped, it's because they have to act a certain way so as not to create new legal problems for the district, he said, adding that the board will continue to investigate and consider further action.

"While it is lost in all of this, everyone in this room needs to know that we have a vaping problem in our school, just like many districts do," Sleeter said.

Vape cartridges usually contain nicotine but can also contain THC and other dangerous and sometimes deadly drugs like fentanyl, he said, although that has not been alleged with regard to the six girls who were searched.

"This is more than smoking in the bathroom," Sleeter said. "Vaping can have deadly consequences for our kids."

Sleeter also said the board wanted to recognize the staff and students.

"Sadly, this story exploded through the media before any investigation was complete. As a result, our kids and staff were put in the limelight for something they did not want to be part of," he said. "We are impressed with the professionalism of our staff in continuing to provide a high level of education we have come to expect as Suring Public School.

"We have also heard many times how the kids just want their normal school back."

Sleeter said the Suring Public School will become an open campus again effective March 21. The board had closed the campus as a precaution against the spread of COVID-19.

Casper's initial appearance in Oconto County Circuit Court is scheduled for 10 a.m. March 23.

Funeral service held for Suring crash victim

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

A funeral service was held at Suring Public School on March 5 for the 8-year-old girl killed Feb. 24 in a crash that occurred in the Town of Abrams.

Emersyn R. Nicola, 8, was killed in the crash. Driver Michael A. Nicola, 34, Suring, was airlifted from the scene to St. Vincent Hospital in Green Bay. Alexa B. Nicola, 11, was also taken to the Green Bay hospital by ambulance. Both were trapped in the wreckage, and rescue crews extricated the father.

A GoFundMe page, set up by the family of Dana (Ermis) Nicola to cover medical expenses and funeral costs, said Michael took his daughters to the concert at FiServ Forum in Milwaukee featuring English singer-songwriter Dua Lipa, and the accident occurred on their way home to Suring. A gas station with a McDonald's restaurant is located at that exit.

The Oconto County Sheriff's Department traffic report, released March 2, indicates Michael Nicola took the exit ramp on U.S. Highway 41-141 northbound at 1:05 a.m., and the 2014 Ford F350 pickup truck went through the stop sign at the top of the ramp at highway speed.

The vehicle went through the intersection, struck a highway sign and was airborne for 100 feet, striking the ditch and a fence below and continuing another 132 into a light pole, and traveled another 12 feet before coming to rest.

After a preliminary hearing, Richard W. Sotka, 47, Marinette, was bound over for trial on charges of stalking and misdemeanor counts of bail jumping and disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred Sept. 1, 2021, and an alleged Oct. 31 court order violation. However, in another case, in which he was charged with transfer another's personal property valued between $10,000 and $100,000, Judge Michael T. Judge ruled that the state did not prove probable cause and dismissed the case. Arraignment on the stalking charge was scheduled for March 17.

Nicole Lynn Horsens, 42, Green Bay, waived her right to a preliminary hearing and was bound over on charges of possession of methamphetamine and misdemeanor counts of bail jumping and operating while her license is revoked, in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred Nov. 25. Arraignment was scheduled for March 17.

Proceedings of March 3

Randy Joseph Micolich, 29, Green Bay, was placed in the Volunteers in Probation program for one year for hit-and-run causing injury, in connection

In a plea agreement, 12 counts of possession of child pornography were dismissed but read into the record. Judge scheduled sentencing for May 3 and ordered a pre-sentence investigation.

Jennifer K. Powers, 34, Shawano, pleaded no contest to battery or threat to a law officer, two misdemeanor counts of resisting an officer and one count of misdemeanor disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that occurred March 14, 2021. Conley accepted a deferred prosecution agreement and suspended the felony count for two years, during which Powers will be placed on probation. Conditions include 45 days in county jail, no possession or consumption of alcohol or other drugs and completion of an AODA assessment.

A jury trial was rescheduled for June 1 in the case of Stephanie J. Termaat, 38, Oconto, who is charged with two counts of harboring or aiding a felon, in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred in the days after her son, Logan Race, shot a Menominee, Michigan, man in the back during a botched robbery Dec. 28, 2020. Race, 18, was sentenced in September to five to 20 years in prison. A final pre-trial hearing in Termaat's case was scheduled for May 16.

Proceedings of March 1

After a one-day trial, a jury found Andre Nathaniel Jackson, 32, Oconto, guilty of misdemeanor disorderly conduct but not guilty of the felony charges of first-degree recklessly endangering safety and possession of a firearm by a person convicted of a felony, in connection with an incident that occurred Nov. 6. Conley scheduled sentencing for March 9.

Proceedings of Feb. 28

A March 8-9 jury trial was canceled for Phillip John Waupoose, 38, Neopit, after the state was unable to locate the victim in the case involving charges of substantial battery intending bodily harm, intimidating a victim by damaging property, false imprisonment, misdemeanor criminal damage to property and disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that allegedly occurred March 29, 2020. The charges were dismissed without prejudice, meaning they could be refiled at a future date.

Jacob M. Samsa, 32, Oconto, pleaded no contest to second-degree recklessly endangering safety and misdemeanor counts of battery and misdemeanor disorderly conduct, in connection with an incident that occurred May 22. Hencsik presents referendum to Gillett council

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Gillett School District Administrator Todd Hencsik presented a proposed referendum to the Gillett City Council during its March 3 meeting.

The referendum question will be on the April 5 ballot.

Gillett community members and voters approved an operational referendum in 2018 that provided three years of additional funding for the school district. The operational referendum ends at the end of the 2021-22 school year. Hencsik and the school board are asking voters to consider supporting an extension of the operational referendum for three more years.

"No. 1, the state has not increased the revenue floor so that we can continue to offer the programs that you have come to expect from us," said Hencsik. "We want to continue to have small class sizes. We want to continue to offer CTE (career and technical education) classes — including ag classes, as well as traditional shop classes. We want to continue to offer our best elective courses, including Spanish and fine arts."

The school district is asking to exceed its revenue limit by $450,000 each year for the next three years.

"This referendum will allow us to maintain the current programming and services within the school district," said Hencsik. "This will all happen while also lowering the mill rate from the $9.17 that it is right now."

Hencsik also went over the options that the school district would have to consider if the referendum fails.

"We will have to look at cuts to the current programs and services that we have within the school district," said Hencsik. "While we are not endorsing any cuts, we did give out a survey to our taxpayers in our community. We will look to that and look to those ideas, but the reality is, we will need to trim our budget with some difficult decisions."

Mayor Josh McCarthy said that Gillett is looking into getting more housing available in the area to help boost enrollment in the high school, which could help increase the revenue limit.

If approved, the referendum will go into effect for the 2022-23 school year.

Questions regarding the referendum can be answered by emailing TigerPride@gillett.k12.wi.us or by visiting the school district's website and viewing the frequently asked questions page.

Helen F. Zajac

It is with great sadness that we announce the passing of our beloved wife, mother, grandmother and great-grandmother, Helen Florence (Berna) Zajac, 90, Pulaski, on Monday, Feb. 28, 2022. Helen was born in Pulaski at home on May 21, 1931, to Michael John Berna and Anna Agnes Berna (Kurtz).

Helen enjoyed helping her dad on the farm in Pulaski and, later, Abrams thoroughly (rather than the alternative, helping with cooking, cleaning and other household chores). On Wednesday, April 28, 1954, Helen married Pvt. James (Jim) S. Zajac at St. Louis Catholic Church in Abrams. They moved to Fort Bliss in El Paso, Texas, where Jim was stationed.

Cross blood drives, among other parish and community activities.

Helen's hobbies were listening to polka and country music, attending area church picnics, playing Scrabble and going to the casino with her sisters, daughter, and friends, doing crossword puzzles, playing poker and cribbage and playing Rummy almost daily with Jim and her children. She enjoyed watching Packers games and was especially happy if her "numbers won."

The last few years, her family and friends celebrated her birthdays bowling at Village Lanes in Howard. Always a fun time. Helen also enjoyed attending Badgerland Oliver Collectors and Pioneer Tractor Cruisers events with Jim.

Helen was a giver, not a taker, and she encouraged her children and grandchildren to do the same.

She is survived by her loving and faithful husband of 68 years, Jim; four children, Neil and Jeanne (Drella) Zajac, Pulaski, Terry and Linda (Jewell) Zajac, Michigan, Kelly Zajac (special friend Sheila Farrell), Pulaski, and Neva (Zajac) and Steve Paque, Sobieski; eight grandchildren, Zachery (Karoll Gamarra) Zajac, Florida, Christopher (Dana Schwartz) Zajac, Green Bay, Teira (Zajac) and Nick La Brie, Florida, Tesia (Zajac) and Dylan Dixon, Maryland, Robyn and Chase Zajac-Elsbecker, Pulaski, Nicholas Zajac, Sobieski, Parker Christiansen (special friend Katie Heagle), Gillett, Marisa (Paque) and Michael Leidig, De Pere; six great-grandchildren, Kasey Mae Zajac, Alaina and Jay LaBrie, Kaylee and Caleb Zajac and Alice Zajac-Elsbecker; her siblings, Esther Bagniet, Oconto Falls, and Mike was born on Dec. 5, 1947, to Earl and Loretta (Maes) DeBoth of Green Bay.

On June 13, 1970, he married the love of his life, Jo A. (Pasterski) DeBoth. Mike and Jo celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary in 2020. They together enjoyed taking trips with family and friends, playing cards and riding horses.

Mike was a man of many talents. He was a cement finisher by trade. Mike enjoyed using his talents in helping friends and family through the building of furniture and homes, as well as assisting in the completion of outdoor projects.

Mike was well known for his ability to train hound dogs. One of his greatest accomplishments in hunting occurred in 1993 when he assisted in harvesting a 632-pound black bear in Glidden with his hounds. In 1978, Mike harvested an elk that scored 313 2/8 in Rio Blanco, Colorado, with his Thompson Center 50-caliber muzzleloader. He still holds ranking with

In respecting Mike's final wishes, there will not be a formal funeral service.

SCHS jazz band gets 11th Rolling Meadows honor

Program comes back from pandemic hiatus, scheduling issues to win

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

Rolling Meadows is one of the high points in the Shawano Community High School jazz band's competitive season, as the band finds itself facing off against some of the most talented bands in the country. This year, SCHS came back from its Feb. 26 competition with its 11th consecutive win from the annual jazz festival in Illinois.

It's not the 11th consecutive year that SCHS has won, though, according to band director Christopher Kent. The pandemic has kept the band from performing the last couple of years, he said, and there have also been years where SCHS skipped Rolling Meadows to play at a jazz festival in Louisville, Kentucky, which takes place the same weekend.

"This is a streak we don't want to drop," Kent said. "I told the kids after they won that this was a special one, after everything they'd gone through the last three years leading up to this. For them to get to hear other bands again, every director I saw ... was just so fired up. From my standpoint, I'm just so happy to be back doing this."

Kent noted he was in another room when the results were posted, but he could hear his students cheer when they saw that SCHS was the champion band again.

Besides the band's overall win, Ashlee Raddant, who plays alto saxophone, won as the outstanding soloist for performing what Kent described as an extremely difficult piece. Ananya Wilson, who plays the tenor sax, received an honorable mention for her performance.

Raddant, who is also the leader of the saxophone section, said of all the things she's done with the jazz band, the latest Rolling Meadows victory qualifies as one of her proudest accomplishments.

"I am so happy with the way our band played, and I am honored to have helped take the band there," Raddant said. "I have been listening to my feature song for much of my music career, and to have not only played it competitively, but to have won an award for it has made my experience come full circle. I am so proud of the hard work and perseverance that everyone has put in to take our band from good to great."

The Shawano Community High School jazz band stands with its 11th Rolling Meadows trophy on Feb. 26. The band overcame last-minute changes, late starts and being out of practice due to the COVID-19 pandemic to achieve its most recent victory.

Being able to come back with a win even after the band's been on hiatus due to the pandemic was especially pleasing for Isabel Roloff, who leads the band's trombone section.

"Playing at Rolling Meadows was very exciting, and our success certainly showed our band's hard work over the past few months," Roloff said. "We worked as a team to reestablish the skills we had lost over the COVID pandemic. I am very proud of the trombone section for the good sound we are creating and the fun we have while doing it."

The latest victory is especially sweet for Kent, who noted that the band did not start playing until November due to a different scheduling system at the high school. Normally, the band starts up on the first day of school in September.

Kent noted that the band had to make some last-minute adjustments as well, which might have affected the outcome. He said Jackson Smits, his senior drummer, had to bow out because he's also on the SCHS wrestling team, and the state meet coincided with Rolling Meadows.

"I had a sophomore girl, Savannah Elgin, who stepped in and had to learn his two tunes plus play hers, and the two tunes he had were really difficult," Kent said. "She stepped up and she did it. We were able to do this, even with that (change), and it's because the band as a whole, the kids bonded as a group — as a band family."

The director believes having that cohesion is what makes the difference between a decent band and one like SCHS, which won the contest.

"They played for each other," Kent said. "They worked, and they overcame the situation."

Kent also believes there was some motivation to up the game after the band finished fourth at the Purdue Jazz Festival in January.

"They went into an even bigger venue and did that," Kent said.

Among the pieces SCHS performed for the festival were two Duke Ellington pieces, "Johnny Come Lately" and "Banquet Scene," along with the song "Alianza," which Kent noted is hard for a drummer to perform because the beat switches between Latin and swing.

"The whole style switches back and forth and back and forth," Kent said. "For the rhythm sections, that makes for some great difficulty."

The SCHS second jazz band also performed well at Rolling Meadows, according to Kent. Clarice Neumann, who plays alto sax for that band, received an individual honorable mention for that performance.

The Rolling Meadows victory has put the bands on a wonderful high going into the school's own jazz festival, which takes place this weekend. Kent noted that Lauren Sevia, a Grammy-award winning baritone sax player, will be among the special guests at the event.

For those unable to make it to the jazz festival coming up, there will be two other opportunities for the community to see the jazz bands perform. "The Last Dance," an annual end of the school year event before COVID-19 hit, will return May 13-14, and then the bands will play at Franklin Park the following weekend.

"It's going to be nice to be back live (in the community) next weekend and do this," Kent said. "We have a lot of alumni coming back, and we have a lot of alumni bringing their own high school bands now."

Shawano School Board sells old town hall

Highest bid less than the minimum established but expected to cover district's costs

By LEE PULASKI
City Editor

The old Wescott Town Hall is finally off the Shawano School District's hands after being sold to Richard Muth for $67,100.

The Shawano School Board voted 8-1 on March 7 to accept Muth's bid, even though it was below the minimum bid of $70,000 that the board established earlier this year. The district received four bids, according to finance director Josh Swanson, with Muth's being the highest.

Swanson noted that the fair market value for the property was $65,000, but the minimum had been set at $70,000 to allow the district to recoup the costs to appraise and sell the property.

"This is above fair market value and allows us to recoup the appraisal costs," Swanson said.

Board president Michael Sleeper expressed disappointment that the bids were not as high as what the board wanted, but he said did not see a benefit to rejecting the bids and trying again.

"It's not quite what we wanted, but the recommendation is that we should take that bid and move on," Sleeper said.

Board member Mart Grams, who was the lone vote against the sale, disagreed and felt the district could get more for the former town hall.

"I know the market's booming, so that bothers me a little," Grams said, adding that he would prefer that the owner was local. "I think we should establish a monetary value and a use value for this place. Fair market value is garbage."

The old Wescott Town Hall, located at N6251 Lake Drive, has been appraised at $65,000. The Shawano School Board approved a bid on March 7 that sold the building for $67,100, which was less than the $70,000 minimum amount set by the board earlier this year.

FILE | NEW MEDIA

Swanson did not provide the board with many details other than the top bidder's name.

Board member James Davel, who is also the administrative coordinator for Shawano County, disputed Grams' claim that the buyer should be local, noting that the board did not stipulate that when it established the bidding requirements.

"Having watched what the county went through, holding onto a building because we thought we'd get more money, but it never panned out," Davel said. "In this case, I think it's just time to get rid of this, pull an asset off the books."

In 2019, the Town of Wescott deeded the old town hall, located at N6251 Lake Drive, back to the school district. This fulfilled the obligations of an agreement reached 50 years earlier when the district gave the building, then used as a schoolhouse, to the town. The town had voted in 2006 to keep the building for community use, like the occasional rummage sale, even though the town's main office and meetings took place at the current town hall on Old Keshena Road. It was later decided to return the building to the school district.

Initially, the district had pondered using the facility as an alternative academy for the exceptionally gifted for grades 6-12 with plans to research the idea in earnest in summer 2020. However, the coronavirus pandemic derailed efforts to research the issue further, and district officials announced in 2021 that they planned to sell the building instead. District residents agreed to those plans at the annual meeting held in September of that year.

Pulaski showcasing brilliant works in art show

Student art displayed as part of National Youth Art Month

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

Art is all the rage in the Pulaski School District in March.

The Pulaski School District is taking part in this year's National Youth Art Month. The school district has artwork made by students of all grade levels on display at the district office, 143 W. Green Bay St. throughout the month of March.

"We have K-12 up through the building here," said Pulaski Community Middle School art teacher Sarah Hoffman. "We basically chose about 20 pieces from every school — some two-dimensional, some three-dimensional — all of the kids are honored with certificates."

The art show is running in conjunction with youth art month, which takes place in March. The art will be on display every school day during the month from 7 a.m. to 6 p.m.

One third-grade student discussed the process of creating her art and how it feels to have it displayed for the community.

"I made a vintage travel print," said McKenzie Sage. "I don't even remember how long it took, but we did step by step in class, creating islands to mountains, then trees and planes."

Sage said that she loves knowing that people throughout the community are coming in and looking at both her and her classmates' art.

Drawings from students, K-12, are displayed at the Pulaski School District office all month long in March.

LUKE REIMER | NEW MEDIA

"It is a really good feeling," said Sage. "This is my favorite class in school, so I like to see people looking at my work."

Fifth-grader Jillian Fisher shared similar emotions when discussing her experience with art in school.

"It takes a lot of effort," said Fisher, when she was discussing her perspective drawing of the Polar Express. "You have to work hard and really get into the drawing."

While some artists know exactly what they want to create when they plan their art, Fisher takes a different approach.

"Mostly, I do good drawings when I do not know what I am going to do at the end," said Fisher. "When you are thinking about what you are going to do at the end, sometimes it doesn't turn out good."

Much like Sage, Fisher said that to see community members coming in and seeing her art is a good feeling. With this being her first time having art entered into a show, Fisher said that art may be something that she wants to pursue in the future.

"I feel like I want to live in somewhere like Florida and sell my art in the future," said Fisher. "I definitely feel like I want to make a career out of art."

Glenbrook Elementary School art teacher Beth Jaime said that this year's art show is unique.

"Last year, we did not have an in-person show," said Jaime. "Last year we did a virtual art show. The year prior, we had an art show, but it got shut down, due to the COVID-19 pandemic."

Jaime noted that this year's art show is a little emotional for the art teachers in the district.

"This year is really special to us," said Jaime. "It is special to us to have our student's families be here in person."

Hoffman said that before the COVID-19 pandemic, the annual art show has received a very warm reception.

"People love coming out here to see the art," said Hoffman. "This is a great central location. School board members have the opportunity to come in and see the art, with their meeting room right down the hall."

Similar to Sage and Fisher, art teachers in the district are happy to see that their students are getting recognized for the hard work that the students are putting in.

"I think that some of our students have never seen an art show before," said Jaime. "This is a really great opportunity for them to feel like their artwork is in a real gallery."

She added that students are also given the opportunity to make their way down to the district office to see what other students have completed.

"It is a neat experience, that maybe otherwise, they would not have," said Jaime.

Gillett school's marimba has history

It is one of 75
made for the 1933
Chicago World's Fair

By LUKE REIMER
Reporter

The Gillett School District recently stumbled upon an instrument with significance but an unknown value.

Gillett Secondary School Principal Shawn Limberg explained that the school district recently found some exciting information regarding their marimba.

"How this started was posts were missing or broken on the instrument," said Limberg. "Our band director, Nathaniel Miller, had contact Century Mallets out of Chicago. He wanted to ask if they had any parts available that would fit the instrument. They emailed him back asking for a picture and serial number."

Limberg explained that the company had emailed Miller back saying that the pieces can be sent, but also asked him if he knew what the significance of that particular marimba was.

"They sent back some pictures of what a restored marimba looks like," said Limberg. "There were 75 of these marimbas made, and they were for the 1933 World's Fair in Chicago."

He added that the marimbas were constructed for an orchestra to celebrate the centennial of Chicago's incorporation as a city.

"This is a one of 75 pieces," said Limberg.

Limberg said that when he was looking for more information on the instrument, he went to Dave Pelow, who was once the band director at Gillett.

"He remembers buying it around 1966," said Limberg. "He reached out to Hyde Music and bought it for about $350. That is how it got here."

The marimba originally had a pearl-colored inlay, but at some point someone painted over the pearl coloring. Limberg also said that during the time the marimba was constructed, art-deco style furnishing was popular.

"All of them have these resonator tubes, some of these are fake. They are capped at the top, so they really don't do anything to resonate the sound like a normal marimba would have," said Limberg. "The front row of tubes is purely for show."

Limberg said that Pelow remembers asking Hyde Music to put a red inlay on the instrument to color-coordinate it with school colors. The original marimba also would have a bronze plaque on the front detailing who the player is. This was removed on the marimba at the school district.

"He told me that he had no idea at the time of when he bought this of what the history of it was," said Limberg. "I don't think Hyde knew either."

Limberg said that the school district is still looking into where the marimba was between 1933 and 1966.

"There is still more of a story to it," said Limberg.

The school district is unaware of what the valuation of the marimba is.

"We could be sitting on a gold mine," said Limberg. "Or it could be worth nothing. The value is probably determined on who the interested party is. To a collector or a professional marimba player, this is probably worth quite a bit; overall we don't know yet."

Limberg added that if the piece does have value, the school district would like to put it in a place where people can value it.

"It would go to a museum, or even Century Mallets in Chicago has their own percussion museum — it would go to something like that," said Limberg. "We do appreciate it here, but it is something that is unique."

He also said that the instrument is used in school's concerts and other areas with the band.

"This is just one of those neat finds," said Limberg.

Common redpolls not common sight but stand out

We were amazed to see a flock of common redpolls at our feeders today. They flutter down to the ground from our shrubby border like falling leaves, decorating the snowy ground with their small, energetic forms. We counted 45 redpolls and plan to enter this sighting in eBird as part of the February Great Backyard Bird Count.

The eBird database is one of the world's largest nature databases, housing millions of bird observations worldwide and is used for scientific and conservation purposes. Adding our observations to the database is fun, helps us learn more about birds and is a way we can contribute to their conservation. For information about eBird and how to participate in using and contributing to this database, go to <https://ebird.org/home>.

Although not a frequent visitor, common redpolls, when seen, do grab your attention. For a small finch, they pack a lot of energy. They are in constant motion even when on the ground searching for seeds — a peck here, a hop, a turning of the head, a short jump, a repositioning amongst the flock, a flick of a seed and then off again as they all scatter into the shrubs.

Study them, and their beauty emerges. As a seeming hedge against the cold they sport a red cap or "poll" atop their head. Both sexes have a black chin spot, short yellow beak and brown-and-white streaked back. Their wing feathers are black, edged in white. And the males are quite striking right now, their breasts and sides stained a pale crimson, ready for the breeding season.

We listen for the redpoll's calls as Female and male common redpolls are seen in Oconto recently. Note the red cap and dark chin spot on both sexes and the pale crimson breast on the male, which is at right.

we watch them flit about. Upon consulting "National Geographic's Field Guide to the Birds of North America (Fifth Edition)," we learn that when perched they give a swee-ee-eet call and when in flight a dry rattle. From Alan Haney's book, "Jewels of Nature, Delightful Birds I Have Known," we find that their range is quite extensive. They breed around the world in the far north's subarctic, inhabiting regions of tundra scrub and forests.

A common redpoll banded in Michigan was found in Siberia, a testament to their worldly travels. Their winter range includes the northern United States and Canada.

The cold demands adaptations for survival. To make up for heat loss during frigid weather, they must eat up to 42% of their body weight in food daily. That's a lot of seeds. The birds grow a third more plumage to help them survive winter temperatures that can plummet to minus-65 degrees Fahrenheit in the far north. Another survival strategy mirrors that of the Ruffed Grouse; they can dive into loose snow and burrow a foot or more into a roosting cavity to keep warm, according to Haney.

Also, like other finches, redpolls are mostly seed eaters when spiders and insects are not available, Haney adds. These they find in brushy weedy habitats and in stands of alder and birch that bear seed-laden catkins. They can store food in throat pouches, which gives them the chance to move to a safe place to digest the food or carry it to their nests. In winter, they especially like millet and thistle seeds.

Look for the common redpoll at your feeders. They have come to us on winds from the far north, from the land of the polar bear and possibly as far as from Siberia, making this energetic traveler all the more spectacular.

Belle Plaine man remembers life of Harry 'Shorty' Davis

By KARL MCCARTY
Special to NEW Media

"You must be sober two years before you step back on my land," Dad told Shorty after a drunken binge that scared Mom.

It is the son, Leo Dillenburg, who remembers it, and he tapped the table at War Bonnet Gifts when recalling his father's ultimatum to the short Irishman who was living at the Belle Plaine farmhouse. Shorty "just got so damn mean," Dillenburg said.

There were young kids in the house, and a line had to be drawn. Shorty never crossed it again, according to Dillenburg.

Harry 'Shorty' Davis

There are elements to the life of Harry "Shorty" Davis that will remain buried, but some details appear more certain than others to Dillenburg, whose recollections fill in gaps.

"I tried to think today about who I could ask about Shorty, but everybody is dead, except my sister and my brother," Dillenburg said.

So the following is what Dillenburg recalls during interviews about old Shawano County.

Shorty allegedly came from Ireland, born in 1900. His jig validated it. So did his height — 5 feet, 2 inches "at the most," according to Dillenburg, "and he was just a guy my dad picked up walking on the road one day."

The find was before Dillenburg was born in 1946, when Shorty was already middle-aged. He clearly was a traveling worker. Perhaps some called him a vagrant. Others probably called him a bum. He spent time in the Fox Valley, and he was a butler. He survived the Great Depression, and it wasn't a cliché.

There are aspects of Shorty more obvious than others, according to Dillenburg.

"Well, here's the thing with Shorty," Dillenburg said. "I only knew the good part of Shorty, but I always heard the bad parts of Shorty."

For example, there were details missing in Shorty's biography.

"He'd talk about these real wealthy people in Appleton he worked for, but we never could get the information out of him (of) who it was," Dillenburg said. "My aunt came over one day ... and she said, 'Here, Shorty, would you look at this?'"

The news clipping read: "Wanted: Anybody know the whereabouts of Harry Davis?"

Dillenburg recalled his dad checked out the big mansion he supposedly worked at.

"We even drove down and saw it, and it was by the university, if I remember right," Dillenburg said. "It was in Appleton, and it was a great big mansion up there."

Whatever the case, there was a big advertisement out to find him. Somebody in the Fox Valley wanted Harry Davis.

"And he got really mad at my aunt, and he grabbed that, and he said 'If you ever bring that up again, I'll never talk to you again,'" Dillenburg said. "And that was it. So nobody ever found out what the situation was."

These were the elusive bullets on Shorty's resume prior to the end of World War II.

When younger, Dillenburg never saw Shorty drink, but Dillenburg's uncle, Wallace, filled him in. The Irish wanderer apparently showed up in the Shawano area, wound up in the bars and probably worked a little bit here and there. Dillenburg's uncle and dad went duck hunting on an October morning with a complete frost on the ground.

Dillenburg told the story as if it was Uncle Wallace speaking: "Here, we're driving down the road, and we thought, 'Somebody musta threw their jacket in the ditch,' because we drove by and it looked like a jacket there covered in frost, and here it was Shorty. Laying under all that frost, drunker than hell yet. Frozen, half frozen."

Shorty, who raised "all kinds of hell," according to Dillenburg, had been fighting down at Club 22 and got thrown out.

“But I never remember that part of him,” Dillenburg said.

Through his dad and his uncle, there were stories of Harry’s wilder days. Layers peeled off over the years, but never exactly to the core.

However, there is no question Dillenburg’s dad had enough of Shorty’s alcohol in the mid-1940s. The last straw was when Shorty tried kicking him down the steps. Dillenburg recalled that his dad grabbed Shorty by the leg, dragged him outside and gave the ultimatum of two years and sobriety.

Time passed and there Shorty stood at the end of the driveway with a little suitcase, saying: “I’m ready to come home.”

It was two years to the date of the eviction.

The Irish character

Shorty demonstrated his loyalty to the family upon his permanent return.

“He lived in the same house with us: me, my mom, and kids and everything,” Dillenburg said. “He had his own room.”

Dillenburg and his siblings became childlike figures to a man who lacked ties to his own family. A vagrant was now something between a second dad and a cool uncle at the Dillenburg Farm in the 1950s.

“Us kids could do nothing wrong,” Dillenburg said. “He just loved us kids. He was always looking out for us.”

Dillenburg also recalled Shorty didn’t get along well with older men. Mind you, Shorty himself was already between 50 and 60.

One time, Dillenburg’s dad hired another guy named Lenny. By then, there were multiple farms the Dillenburgs owned. Shorty and Lenny stayed on the other farmhouse, because they worked there. Shorty didn’t have a driver’s license, but Lenny had a car.

“And Lenny comes flying in the yard and said Shorty was gonna kill him,” Dillenburg said, adding, “he was gonna beat him up with a hammer.”

Shorty was “very jealous of anybody that wanted to look good around us kids,” according to Dillenburg. He became a figurehead to the family.

“He liked being the one who took care of us kids and everything,” Dillenburg said.

Through it all was a good work ethic. Shorty made the expansion of the Dillenburg Farm possible. Dillenburg motioned the “chu, chu, chu, chu, chu,” suggesting the efficiency in which Shorty could hand milk a cow in the 1940s before milk machines came to the farm.

“And he was a big part of the neighborhood,” Dillenburg said. “Everybody knew Shorty, because he jigged. He would start his Irish jig. And it was funnier than hell — especially when you were a kid. He was always trying to teach us how to do that Irish jig.” His work was sprinkled elsewhere, for he helped put the floor in at Giese’s Three Elms. Shorty told Dillenburg: “We put that flooring in, and then we had a dance, and I had to show ‘em how to jig.”

A decline from the prime Dillenburg’s dad had bet on mink and faded out of dairy. Then the mink market collapsed.

Dillenburg’s mom died in 1965, dad moved off the farm and the Dillenburg kids grew up. Alcohol crept back in, and depression lingered. The purpose Shorty found in mid-century had faded, as his laborer body turned 70. Meaning was harder to find. Dillenburg’s brother moved in at the farmhouse, and a trailer was put outside for the old farmhand.

“Just a little dinky trailer, and that little Irishman always lived in there,” Dillenburg said.

Shorty seemingly avoided alcohol until the 1960s. But as Dillenburg’s dad moved away, and the kids grew up, there was less social ties to keep Shorty positive. Dillenburg’s dad went over to the trailer one day, and it was clear Shorty was in a bad spot mentally. Shorty hadn’t cleaned up much, so Dillenburg’s dad went over to talk to Dillenburg’s brother.

“And my dad told my brother, ‘You get the bathtub ready, and I’m bringing him over there, and he’s gonna take a bath,’” Dillenburg said. “So, he took Shorty over to the house and washed him up. He literally threw him in the tub.”

Then Dillenburg’s dad made sure protections were in place to protect his aged farmhand, saying: “Every week you check on Shorty, and you make sure he gets over there and gets a bath, ‘cause he’s depressed about something.”

Memories at the trailer

There were more important memories at the trailer that vindicate the Irishman. Dillenburg was drafted for Vietnam, and Shorty worried about something happening to the child he watched grow up over 20 years. Of course, when Dillenburg came home on leave, he went and stayed by Shorty.

“And then when I went away, I can remember him standing there bawling,” Dillenburg said. “And then when I came back from Vietnam, that’s where I went and stayed. The first person I went and seen was Shorty.”

Another aspect of Shorty was his love for his second country.

“He was really, really patriotic,” Dillenburg said.

During Dillenburg’s childhood, he could remember Shorty saying, “I don’t like that president that we got,” but Shorty concluded, “I gotta love him because he’s our president.”

“It didn’t matter what president it was — if he didn’t like him, he didn’t like him,” Dillenburg said, “but he would never say anything bad about ‘em, other than he’d just say, ‘I don’t like him, but I respect him because he’s our president.’”

Shorty lived four or five years at the trailer at least.

“When I came home from leave to go to Vietnam, he was there, and when I got back from Vietnam, he was there,” Dillenburg said. “Whenever I would get in any trouble at all — like I’d stay out too late, I couldn’t drive home, or I’d be drinking too much — I’d always stay by Shorty. And he would feed me. I always remember he’d make me mash potatoes with peas, but the mashed potatoes were full of pepper, and I kept telling him: ‘I don’t like pepper.’”

Shorty’s response, which Dillenburg laughed while repeating: “You’re gonna eat pepper.”

Somewhere between alcohol and his 80s, Shorty wound up in the nursing home. He still had some fire.

“I remember all of them women in the nursing home said how much fun he was, because he was flirting with every girl in there, even though he couldn’t get any girls,” Dillenburg said.

In 1984, the chapter closed on Shorty in Shawano. He blew in like a leaf in the wind in early adulthood, but there was a general consensus that he had the best times of his life when he rooted on the Dillenburg Farm. His strong work ethic, overt loyalty and humorous jigging were central to his character.

Shorty had no known blood relatives in Wisconsin, but friends who knew him made sure he was honored.

“And when he died, my brother buried him next to my dad, up there, with my mother on the hill,” Dillenburg said.

Dillenburg was gone at the time working out of state, and his brother, Dan, went out of his way to insure the farmhand was respected. With two clovers and a Celtic cross, a monument stands at Sacred Heart Cemetery in Shawano signifying an Irishman’s redemption: “Our Irish friend touched the lives of many.”

It was quite the comeback from an eviction, and a permanent reminder on the value of forgiveness.

OPINION

GUEST COLUMN

War in Ukraine is a teachable moment

I discuss the topic of leadership a lot in our home. It is not much of a surprise, as my wife and I have multiple combat tours between us.

Together, we have over 40 years of collective military leadership experience and the honor of leading troops into combat. Over the course of our careers, we have seen the full spectrum of leadership; some of the most rewarding experiences are when we observe those unlikely leaders emerge in the face of adversity. In the past few days, like so many other Americans, we have watched new heroes emerge in Ukraine as an unjust war unfolds.

JOSEPH REAGAN

We have been most impressed by “Captain Ukraine,” President Volodymyr Zelensky, a former TV comedian, who in the past few days has become a global symbol for the democracy we hold so dear. He has become not just the face of Ukrainian resilience, but also a leader who has truly united people across the globe. His words and actions have inspired and motivated world leaders to recommit to the values of peace, unity and democracy.

To our family, his courageous response to an offer of evacuation showed the spirit in which this country (America) was founded. He said, “The fight is here; I need ammunition, not a ride.” It is this kind of “lead from the front” attitude that we feel has captivated so many of us over the past few days.

Zelensky’s willingness to roll up his sleeves (when he is not wearing a T-shirt) and put himself in harm’s way is a stark reminder that freedom is not free, and that the price of freedom is commitment, perseverance and determination. He teaches a lesson in democracy that is not lost on the members of my family.

It is not just Zelensky who is worthy of praise as the media reports nearly 70,000 rifles were distributed to civilians in a single day last week. The same media also quotes a Ukrainian woman as she stands resolute to defend her country by defiantly stating, “I am an adult woman, I am healthy and it’s my responsibility.”

President Zelensky has been the first to acknowledge that the Ukrainian people have stepped up and have been doing so since Russia’s invasion of Crimea in 2014 with the creation of the Territorial Defense Force made solely of Ukrainian volunteers.

Just as live television allowed the Vietnam War to be brought into our living rooms, social media has put the Ukraine War into our hands. We are bombarded with traditional media and social media accounts of the war. This new age of reporting has brought an unprecedented awareness to how fragile democracy can be and as my wife and I point to the TV, cell phone or computer monitor, we try to show our children that “this is what patriotism looks like and that everyday people can be heroes if they so choose.”

The news is reporting that some Ukrainian parents are sewing their child’s blood type to their shirt before sending them off to school. Other parents are packing bags for their young children so they can be loaded onto a train and taken to a foreign country for safety, reassuring them that everything will be OK while silently wondering if they will ever be a family again. Other parents are pleading with doctors, trying desperately to keep the youngest victims of this war alive.

This is how Ukrainian children are learning about war and freedom. With everything that has transpired over the past few days, my wife and I are suddenly realizing how valuable something as simple as a family dinner can be to a nation’s democracy.

As Americans, we are grateful that we are largely free of external threats to our family and our freedoms. We should remember that the principles that the people of Ukraine are defending with their lives today are the very same principles that generations of Americans have fought for as well. Our country, despite all our self-imposed differences, needs to look at the images coming from Ukraine and bear witness to their unity, and to notice that the only division is between those who stand in defense of democracy and those who stand against it.

As President Reagan, a World War II veteran, once said: “No arsenal, or no weapon in the arsenals of the world, is so formidable as the will and moral courage of free men and women.” There is no place in the world today where this is more evident than in Ukraine. My sincere hope is that the sacrifices being made by the people of Ukraine inspire all of us to have the moral courage to recommit ourselves to the ideals we share as Americans and to put aside our petty arguments to find a way to show our families we love them and our country.

Joseph Reagan is the director of military and veterans outreach for Wreaths Across America. He served eight years on active duty as an officer in the U.S. Army, including two tours to Afghanistan with the 10th Mountain Division. He is the recipient of multiple awards and decorations, including the Bronze Star and the Purple Heart.

Vote would ensure long-term solution to middle school facility needs

By OCONTO FALLS SCHOOL DISTRICT
Special to the Times Herald

On April 5, residents of the Oconto Falls School District will vote on a referendum question. If it is approved, the district would move forward with a plan to address our most pressing facility needs at Washington Middle School and throughout our buildings.

The proposal centers on constructing a new middle school on a 90-acre parcel adjacent to both Oconto Falls Elementary School and Oconto Falls High School. The building would replace the current Washington Middle School, which has numerous facility and capacity challenges that, if left unaddressed, threaten the level of quality education we can provide to our students.

Among the challenges at Washington include the fact that parts of the building are now more than 100 years old and have significant structural needs. The building has inefficient HVAC systems and boilers that date back to 1953, forcing maintenance staff to purchase replacement parts on eBay. Last November, a burst steam pipe underground led to lost heating in parts of the building for several weeks.

Due to uneven air conditioning in the building, there are makeshift “tech closets” in classrooms to ensure technology does not overheat in the warmer months. This takes away valuable space for student learning and interrupts instruction when timely technology work needs to be completed in the closets.

Additionally, Washington is built on a constricted, five-acre parcel near downtown Oconto Falls that limits opportunities for student learning around the building due to the lack of green space. There are also significant safety concerns related to student pickup and drop-off, along with traffic flow challenges around the building.

While we have done our very best to maintain Washington, a recent facilities study indicated that it could cost $26 million — about 85% of the cost to build new — to bring the current building up to code. Even after those projects were finished, we would still have a building with structures that are more than 100 years old and located on a lot without any green space.

The proposed new site would provide our middle school with more space than is available with our current building, opening up greater learning opportunities for students. The site features a pond, field and wooded area, with the potential to provide a wide variety of environmental and agricultural education programs.

The site has close proximity to two other schools, creating more of a “campus” feel for students, staff and families. There’s also much more space for athletic fields and a playground.

In addition to a new middle school, an approved referendum would allow the district to provide new secured entrances for all schools, along with the installation of efficient LED lighting that will ultimately pay for itself. The referendum will address traffic flow issues at the elementary building, separate bus traffic from parent traffic and improve safety.

If approved, the referendum would have an estimated tax impact of about $10 per every $100,000 of assessed property value in our district. The district has been a responsible steward of taxpayer dollars and has looked for ways to reduce the impact on taxpayers as we maintain our facilities. However, we are at a point at which we cannot delay addressing the middle school’s facility needs any longer.

To learn about Oconto Falls School District’s facility needs, the process we have used to find a solution and the proposal on the ballot, visit <https://ofpanthers.com/referendum>.

As always, we are grateful for the support of our communities. Together, we are working to provide exceptional educational opportunities for our students and build a bright future.

Bonduel girls fall win short of state

Bears bounced after game-winning 3 by Westfield

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

The Bonduel High School girls basketball team's season ended just one win short of state.

After toppling St. Mary Catholic 57-46 in a Division 4 sectional semifinal playoff game March 3 at Crivitz High School, Bonduel lost a 41-38 heartbreaker against Westfield in the sectional final game March 5 at Waupaca High School. Westfield hit a game-winning 3-pointer as time expired to claim the victory and advance to state.

The loss signaled the end for three Bonduel seniors — Allaina Robaidek, Brenna Hertzfeldt and Kylie Hoffman. The trio were all four-year letter winners and finished with a record of 88-12, which included two Central Wisconsin Conference-East Division titles and four regional championships.

Sectional final

With 1.2 seconds left, Westfield's Carly Drew caught an inbounds pass, took a dribble and step back before throwing a one-handed shot toward the rim. The 3-pointer went in, sending the Westfield team and crowd into a frenzy and left Bonduel players and fans stunned.

"I told them all that I love them very much, that I couldn't be prouder of their efforts," said Bonduel coach Jerry Reinke on his message to the team after the game.

It was a tough way to end the season for Bonduel, especially considering the fight the team had to put up just to tie the game up. Westfield came into the game on fire from 3-point land, making four in the opening six minutes to jump out to a 14-4 advantage.

Bonduel slowly began to chip into the deficit, working it down to four before Westfield went into halftime up seven, 20-13.

Westfield hit another 3-pointer on its first possession of the second half and looked to be in complete control up 28-17 with about 14 minutes to play. That's when Bonduel finally started making up ground on Westfield.

A bucket from sophomore Hailee Thompson followed by a 3-pointer and another basket by Robaidek got the Bears within four points.

Westfield worked its lead back up to eight, but Bonduel went on a 8-1 run to make it a one-point game, 33-

32. Sophomores Hailey Zernicke and Ella Hischke, Robaidek and freshman Audrey Weier scored on the run.

"We've been very resilient all year; that's the way we've played," said Reinke. "I couldn't be prouder of our kids. I guess you could say (Westfield) made one more play."

Westfield looked to regain control with a 5-2 spurt, but Bonduel wasn't finished yet. Hoffman hit two clutch free throws, and then Robaidek hit a driving layup with just under 25 seconds to play to tie it up.

Westfield called a timeout with 12.5 seconds left. Bonduel blocked a potential game-winning jumpshot but couldn't gain possession of the ball.

"I thought our kids were good; they did everything the coach asked them," said Reinke of the team's play down the stretch. "We played great defense to get back into it. We were just one play short."

Fittingly, it was the three seniors who led the team in scoring. Robaidek led the Bears with 13 points. Hertzfeldt had seven points, while Hoffman provided six.

Hertzfeldt grabbed a team-leading seven rebounds, while Zernicke had five before fouling out with about six minutes to play.

Sectional semifinal

Bonduel used a 10-2 run to pull away from St. Mary Catholic down the stretch.

After battling back and forth for most of the game, Bonduel went ahead 42-35 after a 9-2 run, only to have SMC score the next four points to tighten the game back up. Hischke then went on a personal 5-0 run to make it 47-39, but the Zephyrs got right back in it with a five-point spurt.

Bonduel's 10-2 run to pull away began with two baskets from Zernicke. SMC got the next field goal, but Robaidek had the next basket before Hischke made a free throw to make it 54-46 with a little over two minutes to play.

The Bears' defense carried the team to the final buzzer. SMC wasn't able to score a single point in the final three-plus minutes, and a bucket from Zernicke and free throw from Robaidek sealed up the win.

"I think we just pushed the ball up the court. We hit the easy bunnies and just kept our heads up," said Hertzfeldt of what the team did well down the stretch. "We just played as hard as we could."

Hertzfeldt and Hischke each scored 15 points. Zernicke chipped in 12 points, while Robaidek had seven and Weier tallied six. Hoffman had the team's other two points.

Hertzfeldt, who guided the Bears in the first half, also pulled down 10 rebounds, dished out three assists and had three steals. Hischke had seven assists and eight boards, while Hoffman and Robaidek each tallied three assists. Zernicke blocked three shots and had eight rebounds.

The sectional semifinal game had been Bonduel's kryptonite over the past few seasons, with the Bears losing in that game three straight seasons.

"It was amazing. I cried tears of happiness coming off the court," said

Robaidek of the sectional semifinal win. "It was honestly a dream come true."

"We wanted this bad; we had to break the curse," said Hischke. "We've lost this game multiple years in a row. I don't even know what to say right now, but we wanted it bad."

Bonduel capped the season with a 23-5 record and a share of the CWC-East title with Amherst.

Gillett boys Division 5 playoff run ends in regional title game

Lena, Pulaski also earned postseason wins

By MORGAN RODE and LUKE REIMER
NEW Media

The Gillett Secondary School boys basketball team earned a pair of road playoff wins before being eliminated in a regional title game last week.

The Lena and Pulaski boys also earned playoff wins before being bounced in regional semifinal games. Oconto Falls and Suring lost in the regional quarterfinals.

Gillett

No. 9 seed Gillett earned road wins over No. 8 Oneida Nation (59-49 on March 1) and No. 1 Wabeno/Laona (58-51 on March 4) before losing 81-51 on the road to No. 5 Gibraltar in a Division 5 regional title game March 5.

Against Oneida Nation, Aydin Franti led Gillett with 17 points, while Ben Matczak had 16. Jesse DeBauch added 12 points for the Tigers. Austin Vande Corput provided nine points.

DeBauch led Gillett with 15 points against Wabeno/Laona. Matczak and Vande Corput added 12 points each. Jack Baer contributed 10 points for the Tigers, and Franti had the team's other nine points.

Against Gibraltar, Franti paced Gillett with 16 points, 11 of which came in the first half.

Baer added nine points for the Tigers, while Vande Corput had eight and Matczak seven.

Lena

The Lena team kicked off its playoff run with a 69-42 victory over Bowler on March 1 in Lena before being eliminated after a 62-25 loss to second-seeded Florence on March 4 in Florence.

The seventh-seeded Wildcats opened the game against 10th-seeded Bowler with a 24-12 lead. They eventually built on the lead, going up 34-21 into halftime.

Lena's Max Beyer was the catalyst for the Wildcats as he scored 19 points in the first half, with 15 of them coming from the 3-point line. Beyer's first five makes were 3-point shots.

Beyer said that starting quick was a point of emphasis for the Wildcats.

"We wanted to come into the game hard," said Beyer. "We wanted to come in with energy and carry that through the game."

Bowler attempted to slow down Beyer, who averages 23.6 points per game, early in the game by throwing exotic defenses at him, including a 1-2-2 zone and a box-and-one zone.

"We have been prepared for defenses like this for a while," said Lena head coach Fritz Weidner. "We have been seeing that with Max (Beyer) a lot. We handled all of the defenses great and made them get out of those defenses tonight."

The second half was close to a mirror image of the end of the first half. Lena's full-court pressure and hot shooting propelled them to a 57-32 lead with 6:51 to play. That lead eventually grew to 69-42 at the end of the game.

Beyer led the way for the Wildcats, finishing the game with 28 points. Bladyn Anderson contributed another 11.

Pulaski

Eighth-seeded Pulaski rolled to a 68-36 win over ninth-seeded Green Bay West on March 1 in Pulaski before losing 60-50 to top-seeded Notre Dame on March 4 in Green Bay.

Against Green Bay West, Colin Schultz tallied 17 points for Pulaski. Derek Shaw contributed 16 points.

Gatlin Robaidek chipped in nine points for the Red Raiders. Pulaski led 37-22 at halftime before blowing the game open in the second half.

Oconto Falls

The 12th-seeded Oconto Falls boys lost 77-34 to fifth-seeded Wittenberg-Birnawood in a Division 3 regional quarterfinal matchup on March 1 in Wittenberg.

The hosting Chargers jumped out to a 23-4 lead less than eight minutes into the game and never looked back. Witt-Birn later led 35-10 and took a 44-12 lead into the halftime break.

While the hosts were racking up the points, it was a full-court trapping press that overwhelmed Oconto Falls. Several Panthers' turnovers led to transition buckets for Witt-Birn.

Caden Birr led Oconto Falls with eight points, including a pair of 3-pointers. Isaac Raddatz and Braden Vandermoss had five points each.

Suring

No. 12 seed Suring lost 72-25 to No. 5 Gibraltar in a Division 5 regional quarterfinal game on March 1 in Gibraltar.

Maxwell Yancy led Suring with seven points.

Shawano, Bonduel boys eliminated in tight games

Gresham earned close win before being bounced

By MORGAN RODE and LUKE REIMER
NEW Media

Intense, down-to-the-buzzer playoff games have been a common occurrence during the boys basketball postseason.

While Shawano, Bonduel, Gresham, Marion and Menominee Indian weren't able to advance to regional title games, there was no shortage of tight contests.

Shawano

The Shawano boys team had its season come to a close after a 61-56 overtime loss to Rhinelander in a Division 2 regional semifinal playoff game on March 4 in Shawano.

Third-seeded Shawano fell behind 12-5 in the early going and was playing catch-up for a majority of regulation. There were several instances in which the Hawks were able to tie it or grab a one- or two-point lead, only to have sixth-seeded Rhinelander convert a shot on its next offensive trip to go back ahead.

"They just always seemed to make the right play when we were starting to make our comeback," said Shawano's Michael Metcalf-Grassman, who added Rhinelander set strong screens to get good looks and capitalized on its offensive rebounds.

Shawano coach David Ambrosius echoed a similar thought, saying Rhinelander "hit timely shots."

It was Metcalf-Grassman who kept the Hawks in the game in the opening half. He scored 15 of the team's 21 points and helped the team only trail by three at the break, 24-21.

Shawano continued to trail for most of the second half, but a bucket from Brandon Reed and free throw from Metcalf-Grassman gave the Hawks a 46-45 lead with 2:09 to play.

Rhineland scored the next four points on free throws, but also missed five others to allow Shawano to hang around. Metcalf-Grassman made two free throws before Rhinelander missed two more. Jacob Landon then converted a driving layup with just under 10 seconds to play to tie it up and send the game to overtime.

The visiting Hodags hit a 3-pointer on their first possession of overtime before Metcalf-Grassman followed with a field goal. The Hawks then missed two free throws before the teams each hit a bucket — with Landon converting Shawano's shot.

Two Rhinelander free throws were followed by a bucket from Shawano's Elliott Lowney, but those points were the last ones of the game for the Hawks.

Rhineland missed two free throws on its next offensive opportunity. Metcalf-Grassman drove down the floor and drew a whistle on a hard drive to the bucket. Instead of getting two free throws and a chance to tie it or give the team the lead, he was called for an offensive foul. To make matters worse, it was also his fifth and final foul.

The Hodags added two free throws with 12.2 seconds left before Shawano missed a potential game-tying 3-pointer. Two more Rhinelander free throws sealed the game.

Metcalf-Grassman led the team with 29 points. Jacob Landon chipped in 11 points for the Hawks, while Reed and Lowney had six points each.

Bonduel

The fourth-seeded Bonduel boys team saw its season come to an end at the hands of fifth-seeded Manawa after a 72-69 loss in a Division 4 regional semifinal game March 4 in Bonduel.

Down three with three seconds left, Bonduel's Reece Stoltzenow took a half-court shot to potentially tie the game and send it to overtime. The shot bounced off the backboard and then off the rim and rolled out.

Both teams opened the game on fire, as Manawa hit its first four shots. Bonduel responded, building a 19-14 lead heading into the first timeout with 9:20 remaining in the first half. Coming out of the timeout, Bonduel shifted to a 2-3 zone to help cause disruptions and cushion their lead. Manawa immediately made the Bears change defenses, as they hit back-to-back 3s.

After Manawa cut the deficit to two, they trailed 28-26. That's when Bonduel's Charlie Tauchen caught fire. Tauchen went on a 9-1 run by himself, including making two 3s, a layup and a free throw.

Bonduel's Jon Sell got in the action, scoring six in the waning minutes of the first half, including a buzzer-beating post hook shot. Tauchen and Sell scored the Bears' last 15 points of the first half, as the team went into the locker room with a 43-33 lead.

The second half began with both teams trading multiple baskets and Bonduel leading 52-43 at the 11:37 mark.

Manawa then went on a 8-0 run to bring the game within one with 9:58 remaining. The Wolves eventually took a five-point lead with 5:35 left and didn't look back.

Down 65-60, Bonduel clawed their way back into the game, going down one with 59 seconds left. A missed floating layup from the Bears forced them to play the foul game.

Manawa missed a free throw but grabbed the rebound, causing another immediate foul. Manawa had a 68-64 lead with 37 seconds remaining.

Stoltenow answered with a quick layup. This was followed by a steal and a 3-point attempt that missed for Stoltenow.

Once again the Bears were forced to foul and Manawa hit both free throws to go up four. Tauchen hit another 3-pointer to cut the deficit to one.

After an immediate foul, Manawa hit both free throws to build the lead back to three. That's when Stoltenow's desperation half-court shot bounced off of the backboard and rim before falling to the court at the buzzer.

After the heartbreaking loss, Bonduel head coach Duke Copp reflected on the season.

"This group of kids is an extremely loose and fun group," said Copp. "Usually I am a little uptight before games, but it was great to see these kids have fun all season."

Sell, one of the seniors on the team, also reflected on his time with the Bears.

"I could not have been with a better group of guys," said Sell. "These guys have been my family for the last four years — I would go through hell and back with them."

Stoltenow led the way for the Bears, scoring 22 points. Sell added another 16 points and Tauchen 13.

Vele also tallied 10 rebounds and three assists. Jensen grabbed 11 rebounds, while Pecore had eight boards and three steals. Welch pulled down six boards.

Witt-Birn boys eliminated in regional semifinal

Bowler, Tigerton bounced in quarterfinals

NEW Media

The Wittenberg-Birnamwood High School boys basketball team picked up a Division 3 regional quarterfinal playoff win over Oconto Falls before being eliminated by Xavier in a regional semifinal matchup.

Bowler and Tigerton both lost regional quarterfinal matchups.

Witt-Birn

The Witt-Birn boys team rolled to a 77-34 win over Oconto Falls on March 1 in Wittenberg before falling to Xavier 83-61 on March 4 in Appleton.

Fifth-seeded Witt-Birn jumped out to a 23-4 lead over 12th-seeded Oconto Falls less than eight minutes into the game and never looked back. Witt-Birn later led 35-10 and took a 44-12 lead into the halftime break.

While the hosts were racking up the points, it was a full-court trapping press that overwhelmed Oconto Falls. Several Panthers' turnovers led to transition buckets for Witt-Birn.

The Chargers did almost all of their scoring in the paint, using their height and size to get to the basket or athleticism to grab offensive rebounds before making shots.

"Coming in, we knew it was a very winnable game. If we just came in and played our game and stuck to what we are good at, we would come out with a win," said Witt-Birn's Ben Wesolowski, who tallied 16 points. "I guess that's what happened."

In the second half, Oconto Falls had more success on the offensive end, but Witt-Birn was still able to coast to victory and get every player on the court.

Simon Schairer ended up leading the Chargers in scoring with 19 points on the night.

Kaden Schmidt, Mason Mevarden and Max Fraaza each added eight points, while Michael Miller tallied seven.

"We all knew it was gonna probably be our last (home) game, and we wanted to come out and put on a good show for our fans that have supported us through all the years," said Wesolowski, one of seven seniors on the team. "That's what we tried to do, and I think that's what we did."

Against fourth-seeded Xavier, Schairer tallied 21 points for Witt-Birn, making 10 field goals in the contest.

Wesolowski and Miller scored 11 points each for the Chargers, while Ben Flak had 10.

Bowler

No. 10 seed Bowler was on the wrong end of a 69-42 final in a Division 5 regional quarterfinal game against Lena on March 1 in Lena.

Seventh-seeded Lena opened the game with a 24-12 lead. The hosts eventually built on the lead, going up 34-21 into halftime.

The second half was close to a mirror image of the end of the first half. Lena's full-court pressure and hot shooting propelled them to a 57-32 lead with 6:51 to play. That lead eventually grew to 69-42 at the end of the game.

Bowler coach Ted Kietlinski said that this was not the result that the Panthers were looking for, but he is optimistic for the future.

"We have a lot of juniors on this team," said Kietlinski.

"Those junior kids have to commit in the offseason to get better. There is a lot of potential here, but potential doesn't win you basketball games."

As Kietlinski looked back on the season, he noted that he was very proud of his team for the effort they gave this year.

"At the end of the day, it really comes down to commitment and attitude," said Kietlinski. "The kids that we had at the end of the season, I think personified the right effort and attitude that I want to see."

Emmitt Kietlinski and Tristan Thiex led Bowler in scoring with 12 points apiece.

Tigerton

No. 15 seeded Tigerton lost 69-22 in a Division 5 regional quarterfinal playoff game to second-seeded Columbus Catholic on March 1 in Marshfield.

Colby Wanta scored eight points for Tigerton. Ryder Graham added seven points.

Bahr out as Menominee Indian coach

He spent 20 years as varsity coach

By MORGAN RODE
NEW Media

Kirk Bahr has stepped down as the Menominee Indian High School wrestling coach after two decades.

Bahr was the head varsity coach for 20 seasons, while also coaching a year in the youth program.

"The reason I am stepping down as head coach is to spend more time with my family," said Bahr, who was named the Central Wisconsin Conference Coach of the Year three times, including this winter. "My wife Angela and my 9-year-old son Bennett don't get to see me much during the winter months, and it is time for me to be home more."

During his time as the Eagles' head coach, the school won its first and only regional title in 2014. The team's wrestlers racked up 41 all-conference honors and had five wrestlers win conference titles.

The Eagles had 42 individual wrestlers qualify for sectionals and six state qualifiers under Bahr. Seventeen wrestlers won regional titles.

Menominee Indian earned 145 dual wins during Bahr's tenure. The school hadn't won a dual in 11 years before Bahr arrived.

While the coaches are typically the ones teaching the athletes, Bahr's wrestlers also returned the favor.

"My wrestlers teach me every year. I never knew what an impact the sport of wrestling would have on these student-athletes' lives. We have built a brotherhood at Menominee," said Bahr. "Although winning is fun, coaching has not been about winning and losing. It has been about building relationships that will last for years to come."

"I would like to think that most of the young men and women who wrestled for me can look back and be proud of what they accomplished, on and off the mat. We went through good and bad times together and became a family. But most importantly, we had a ton of fun times together, and that is what I will remember most."

Bahr thanked his assistant coaches Matt Pleshek and Dale Hodkiewicz for their help over the years, adding he couldn't have done it without them.

Kyle Winker, who was an assistant under Bahr this season, is the one taking over the program. Winker wrestled under Bahr and was on the team that won the regional title in 2014.

Winker also was a state qualifier and owns the school's all-time win mark for a career with 116 and most wins in a season with 44.

"I could not have left the team in better hands, and I hope some more of my ex-wrestlers will come to help carry on what we have built the past 20 years," said Bahr. "It has been my honor to have coached so many great student-athletes at

While Bahr isn't leading the Eagles' team, he noted he'd be around to help Winker out and still be working inside the Menominee Indian School District. Bahr also plans to remain involved in the Shawano Youth Program, where his son wrestles and Bahr serves as a volunteer coach.

Rodgers set to return to Green Bay on new deal

By NEW MEDIA STAFF

The Green Bay Packers and quarterback Aaron Rodgers have reportedly agreed to a new deal.

Ian Rapoport, an insider of NFL Network and NFL.com tweeted March 8 that, "The #Packers and MVP QB Aaron Rodgers have agreed to terms on a 4-year, $200M deal that makes him the highest paid player in NFL history, sources say. He gets a whopping $153M guaranteed and his cap number goes down. A monstrous commitment by GB for years to come."

Rapoport went on to tweet that Rodgers also considered retirement and joining the Denver Broncos. With the added cap space, Rapoport also tweeted that the Packers are expected to franchise tag receiver Davante Adams.

Pat McAfee, who has Rodgers come on his show, tweeted that, "There is no deal in place currently but there is said to be a Cap Friendly deal on the way."

After McAfee's tweet at 10:25 a.m. and Rapoport's tweet at 10:26 a.m., Twitter was buzzing with Rodgers' tweets. Packers players Kenny Clark, David Bakhtiari, Allen Lazard and Kurt Benkert were among the ones tweeting in response to the news.

Rodgers is coming off a 2021 season in which he won his fourth MVP award after throwing for 4,115 yards and 37 touchdowns while tossing just four interceptions. The Packers went 13-3 in the games he played, but were eliminated in their first playoff game by the San Francisco 49ers.

Oconto Falls' Whiting named North Eastern Conference Wrestler of Year

Six other Panthers honored

By MORGAN RODE
Sports Editor

Oconto Falls High School senior Clayton Whiting was named the North Eastern Conference's Wrestler of the Year after another spectacular season on the mats.

Whiting lost just once while racking up 50 wins on the season. After the regular season wrapped up, he won regional and sectional titles before winning the Division 2 182-pound weight class state title to become one of just 22 wrestlers in Wisconsin history to win four state titles.

"(It) means a lot to be able to achieve these awards, especially first team all four years and other awards that I've received," said Whiting.

"It means so much, just proving that all the hard work and time put into wrestling pays off when you have the right mindset and believe in your work," he continued. "You will achieve your goals. You just gotta push yourself more than your opponents and get ahead of them, so that when it comes to wrestling your competition, you show them the work you have put into the sport."

Whiting was joined on the all-conference first team by senior teammate Graeson Pankratz.

Pankratz also ended his year at state, finishing the season with a 37-12 record.

"It is special and rewarding to get named first team," said Pankratz. "Being first team ends a great season for me and my team."

Garrett Ganter landed on the all-conference second team for the Panthers, while Parker Peterson, Jaden Ganter, Luke Trepanier and Mitchell Kallies were all honorable mentions.

Garrett Ganter wrapped up the season with a 25-13 overall record and finished third at regionals in the 106 weight class.

Peterson was a individual sectional qualifier at 138 pounds. He capped the season with a 28-18 record.

Jaden Ganter wrestled at 132 pounds in the postseason, finishing third at regionals. He posted a 26-13 record this winter.

Trepanier just missed out on qualifying for state after placing fourth at sectionals at 145 pounds. He earned a 35-16 record for the season.

Kallies was a sectional qualifier at 285 pounds. He finished the season with a 26-11 record.

Oconto Falls won a regional title as a team and was one dual win away from qualifying for team state. Nine individual Panthers qualified for sectionals, and three made it to state — with Cole Bozile joining Whiting and Pankratz in Madison.
